MUSEO DIOCESANO MILANO

An extraordinary journey through millennia of history, art and spirituality!

Housed in the suggestive cloister of the Basilica of Sant'Eustorgio, the Diocesan Museum houses a rich collection of artworks from the 4th to the 21st century.

From the splendid Early Christian collections from Sant'Ambrogio and San Nazaro, to extraordinary gold-background works from the Gothic period, from masterpieces by masters such as Michelino da Besozzo and Bergognone, to devotional art from the Borromean period, to modern works by Hayez and the contemporary section dedicated to Lucio Fontana.

A fascinating dialogue between past and present that testifies to the technical skill and refined taste of Italian culture through the centuries.
